The days go by quickly
So quickly that they soon
turn into years

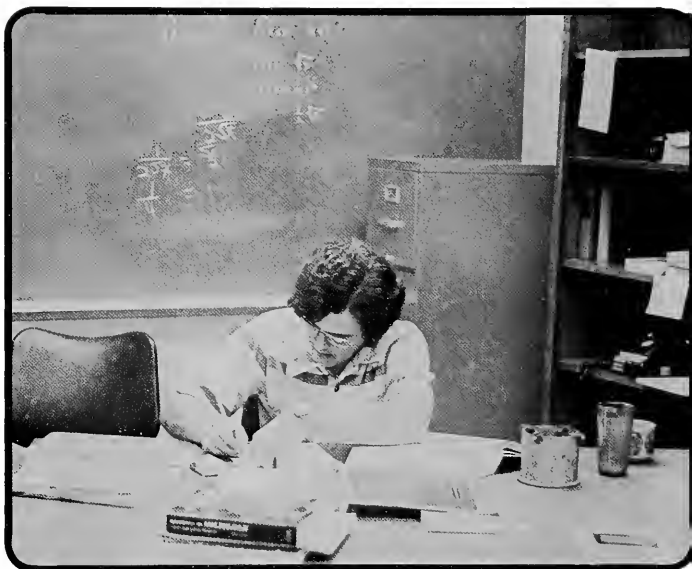

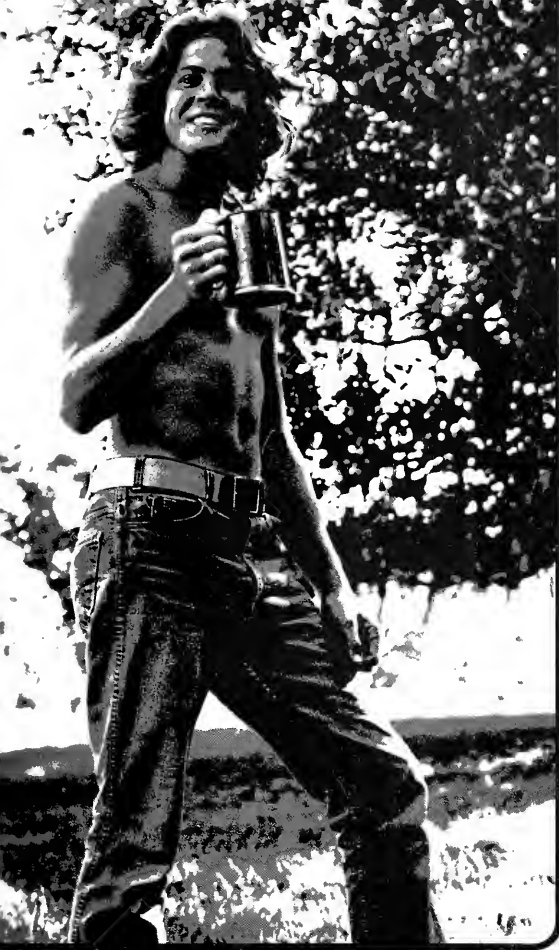

And as one looks back
 He sees that each small moment
 Was part of a whole
 Which made up his Life

No one can take from them
the memories
of the good times and the bad,

Each thought recalling others

Until he realizes that what is NOW

Will soon be a memory also

Passing before he can be aware of its presence.

A black and white photograph of a man rappelling down a rope in a jungle. The man is wearing a light-colored shirt and pants, and is holding the rope with both hands. He is positioned in the center-left of the frame, with his body angled towards the right. The background is a dense, sun-dappled jungle with various tropical plants and trees. The lighting is bright, creating high contrast between the sunlit areas and the shadows.
